TOPICS FOCUSED!!!

Scientific research is critical to help us navigate our ever-changing world. Without it, we would have to rely on people's opinions, our intuitions and luck. Systematic scientific research offers us an objective understanding because scientific knowledge is grounded in objective, tangible evidence.

ABOUT THE DEPARTMENT

The Department of Nutrition and Dietetics was started in the year 2010 and introduce the program B.Sc. Nutrition and Dietetics programme. The intake was subsequently enhanced. The department also offers two more courses PG in Nutrition and Dietetics and PG Diploma in Clinical Nutrition. The PG programme has started in the year 2014, the intake has subsequently enhanced and the present intake in PG 1st year is 76 student. The PG Diploma has started in the year 2018. The department has well qualified faculty with varying experiences. The department has good infrastructure and well equipped and functional laboratory.

OBJECTIVES OF THE PROGRAMME:

This FDP on E-content development provides a platform to learn the tools and techniques needed for the design and development of digital resources for teaching and learning. It aims to provide the knowledge and skills needed for teachers to cater to the present day learners and their learning styles.

Outcome:

The participants have acquired knowledge of the different aspects of designing, planning and delivering quality e-content for teaching-learning and also about the appropriate developmental tools needed to develop e-content in their respective disciplines using text, images, audio and video. This was evident in the quality of audio and video content developed by some of the participants that was reviewed by the resource person during the second session.

OBJECTIVES OF THE PROGRAMME:

Entrepreneurship has become one of the driving forces of economic growth and development. Regional developments in different levels have emphasized the role of entrepreneurship as a tool of development. Under these circumstances, it has become imperative that awareness of entrepreneurship must be spread to the youth population of the country.

In this regard, faculties across colleges and universities can play an important role in the development of the entrepreneurship mindset among the students. The (5) days FDP programme was a structured training programme targeted at faculties across the country. The faculty development programme was conducted to promote faculties to act as a facilitator of entrepreneurship development cells in their respective institutions. Different pedagogical aspects of entrepreneurship education were introduced in the programme. In addition, diverse resources available to start entrepreneurship programmes in their respective institutions were also part of the programme.

Outcomes:

ANWARUL ULOOM EDUCATIONAL SOCIETY
Academia is no exception to this. It has become even more important as ANWARUL ULOOM EDUCATIONAL SOCIETY has become a role of academic institutions and the expectations have been redefined and the expectations from faculty members have completely changed. Faculty members are now expected to lead creative and innovative teams in higher education. This FDP at AUC is small but very firm step towards achieving this goal. We at AUC have enough infrastructural and leadership support to create an environment conducive to guide and support disruptive transformation in times of the circular economy. Our college relies on the in-house expertise of a diverse group of creative and innovative higher education leaders to inspire students and other stakeholders to reflect, experiment, and evolve their professional practice. The speaker for the third day was Dr. Asim Mohiuddin who is the Alumini of this college. After completing his B.Sc, he did his M.Sc. in Germany & then PhD from GITAM University Vishakhapatnam. He is Senior Research Associate in school of Life Sciences, Centre for Biotechnology & Bioinformatics, Jawaharlal Nehru Institute of Advance Research. He has attended various International & National conferences & seminars & published papers in National International Journals. Presently he is also the Director of Biomarkers Research where he guides many M.sc students in their project work.

He spoke about the transcriptional regulation of Cytokines in their biological functions on various diseases. He also spoke about the cell division & programmed cell death.

DAY 4

The speaker for the fourth day was Dr.Syed Safiullah Ghori – Professor & Research coordinator in Anwarul Uloom college of Pharmacy. He has an experience of more than 15yrs in teaching. He has completed his B.Pharmacy & M.Pharmacy from JNTU Hyd & PhD from Himalayan University Arunachal Pradesh. He has attended many National & International conferences & Seminars. He has published 42 papers in various National & International journals & presented 10 papers.

He also spoke about the applications of Biotech which can be used in near future.

Day 5

The speaker for fifth day was doctor salahuddin HO D mathematics Anwarul Uloom College. He is a very senior faculty member an expert in statistics he has published papers in National and international journals. He has attended many conferences and seminars. Has guided many students during his vast year of teaching.

Day 6

The speaker of four day was Dr. Khadija al khadir is senior faculty Mumtaz College In the department of microbiology. She is pursuing her PhD from rayalseema university.He has published many papers and attend conferences and seminars she also guide the students for their MSC projects.

She gave the brief idea about genetic engineering and gene manipulation she explained about the use of genetic engineering not only in treating genetic disorders but also its use in growing genetic engineered plans and the use in microbial gene transfer also.

She explained the use of genetically modified Organism in industries to enhance the quality and quantity of the industrial product she also explained that using genetically modified organisms the time period of production can be enhanced.

FEED BACK :

Faculty members from different Departments participated in the FDP. As Biotechnology is an applied science, it has its roots in basic sciences & applications in all walks of life. So understanding the concept was easy & all the participated members felt that this was an informative & knowledge giving programme.

Day 1

The speaker for day 1 was Mrs. Saleha Afreen a senior faculty in koti women's college; she is pursuing her PhD in biotechnology and having experience of almost a decade. She had attended number of conferences, seminars and has published a number of papers.

She spoke on rDNA Technology, she said the basically rDNA technology or as it is also Called as genetic engineering is the manipulation of genes to archive the desired goal, she explained about different experiments done by scientist and said that rDNA Technology or modern biotechnology enhance all the genetic manipulation. She said that biotechnology is an in disciplinary present with multidisplinary applications. She explained the process of genetic engineering in detail as how they Undesired genes are removed and in place of that the desired genes are introduced. She also gave an idea about the aspects of biotechnology as it is helping in almost all walks of life including the manipulation of genes in microorganisms also.

He spoke about the use of microorganisms which are used in the production of food and beverage. He said that fermentation is a biological process that occurs in the absence of oxygen he explained about the bioprocess technology which is preferred by the scientists for industrial use of higher plants and animal cell. He also explained the role of microorganisms in different industrial products

She is pursuing her PhD in nutrition and is an experienced faculty member she spoke on food Deterioration and the control measures of adulteration .She said that food subject to physical, chemical and biological Deterioration meat, fish and poultry can become incredible within a day, similarly some fruits and leafy vegetables, raw milk etc also get spoiled on same day

She said that slower rates of detritions occur with food that are low in moisture high in sugar salt or acid or modified in some other waste rapid spoiling of food is significant in less develop area and in most high advanced and organizes society.

She said that major factors effecting food detritions include

- a) Growth and activities of organisms
- b) Enzyme activity
- c) Infestation by insects and rodents
- d) Gain or loss of moisture
- e) Reaction with oxygen, light, physical etc

She explained the importance of microorganisms in various industrial productions. She said that there are millions of organisms out of which only 1% has been studied, she said that soil is the best source for isolation of microorganism. She also explained various methods which can be used for isolation of organisms she said that wild strains of microorganisms produce low quantities of commercially important metabolites, through the yield can be increased by optimizing the temperature the ability of metabolic formation is genetically determines so genetic improvement has to be made and new strains developed for substantial increase in production formation in a cost effective manner. She explained that several modifications have to be done to finally produce high yielding strains true genetic manipulations, it has been possible to develop strains for the production of modified or new metabolites which are of commercial value.

He spoke on the topic of production of transgenic animals. He said that transgenic is a phenomenon of introduction of exogenous DNA into the genome to create and maintain a stable heritable character. The transgenes are introduced in the animal and the animals are genetically engineered with a new heritable character. He said they had transgenesis is important for improving the quality and quantity of milk, meat, eggs and wool production.

He explained about the transgenic mice with the human immune system which are referred as human mice. He said that the mice take two weeks after the transplant for the mice to display the human immune system. He said that human mice being a close animal model for human immune system is a born for immunologist specialty working on AIDS.

Organizers: Dr. Sadia Fatima, M.Sc, Ph.D. Head Department of Botany

Objectives of the program:

- The main purpose of organizing the FDP program was to create awareness about Interdisciplinary Research.
- Transdisciplinary Research applications can be understood through this FDP.
- The program aims to enhance the academic and intellectual environment in the institutions by providing faculty members with enough opportunities to pursue research and participate in seminars/conferences/workshops.

The botany department organized a week's FDP on interdisciplinary research for human welfare and prospects of interdisciplinary research from the 23rd to the 30th August. The interdisciplinary research involves combination of 2 or more academic disciplines into one activity this also includes transdisciplinary research where investigators are from different disciplines working jointly to create a holistic approach to the research work.

Outcomes of the program

- Staff Members were enthusiastic to know about the importance of Interdisciplinary Research.
- They learnt about the Applications of Interdisciplinary Research and its Role played in creating new Innovations.
- The FDPs have brought increased self-efficiency and teaching competency among those who were trained.
- FDPs also brought tangible professionalization of postgraduate medical education.
- The challenges are the lack of a medical education centre to sustain the gains made through the past FDPs.

TOPIC: Introduction to importance of Research in Life Sciences

Dr. Majid Mohiuddin, HOD, Department of Microbiology, inaugurated the Week long Faculty Development program.

Dr. A. Madhuri from Govt. Degree College, Affiliated to Osmania University, Hyderabad started Day-1 lecture on the topic "Introduction to importance of Research".

She defined the importance of Research in lifesciences. Speaker explained the various steps required to setup research base.

The speaker enlighten that research is very much important in lifesciences, growing and high lighten the strength of any academic institution is judged by research activities and their outcome.

The speaker concluded with a quote from importance of research that, most of the research will happen in the academic institutions at pilot scale then transfer their technology to industrial scale.

DEPARTMENT: NUTRITION AND DIETETICS

A 7-Day FDP webinar was organized on the topic "Nutritional management of institutionalized patients" on 23-28 August 2022. The zoom platform was used for the conduction of the seminar.

The event started with the Quran recitation by M.Sc. students, followed by the welcome speech by Nazia Mohammadi HOD, AUC. The meeting was joined by the Ahmed Baig, Director, AUC; Mohammed Abdul Razzak, Principal, AUC; heads of the various departments, doctors and dietitians; and the faculty of Kasturba Gandhi College.

The speakers of the event were Dr. Syed Imran Ali, Doctor, Aware Global hospital; Dr. Shruti Kabra, Assistant Professor, OUCW; Ms. Fatima Mahajabeen Ghouse, HOD, Kasturba Gandhi College; Ms. Heena Jahan, Dietitian----- Hospital. The speakers has shared their valuable experiences with nutritional management and the practices required for the maintenance of the institutionalized patients and the audience was able to learn the management of such patients with respective to the different areas of health management like from the point of view of a doctor, dietitian and also from the point of view of the academicians.

OBJECTIVES:

The goal of the seminar was to make people understand the role of the nutrition in maintaining, restoring and regaining the health of the institutionalized patients.

PARTICIPANTS: 150

OUTCOMES:

- The role of nutrition in managing the health of the institutionalized patients was emphasized from the point of view of doctor, dietitian and the academicians.
- The need of the medical nutritional therapy was emphasized by all the speakers.
- The audience was able learn some basics of how to take care of the institutionalized patients.

TOPIC : Recent Trends in Insurance Sector

Dr. Mohammed Abdul Razzak, Principal Anwarul Uloom Degree College, inaugurated the Week long Faculty Development program.

Prof. M. Zaheeruddin, University of Tech. & Applied Sciences, Shinas, Sultanate of Oman starts Day-1 lecture on Topic "New Models, Personalized Products".

He, defined The digital economy will make usage-based, on-demand and 'all-in-one' insurance lifestyle products more relevant. Customers will prefer personalized insurance covers instead of the one-size-fits-all products currently available.

The speaker enlighten Flexible coverage options, micro insurance and peer-to-peer insurance will become viable options in the long run. Reinsurers will provide risk capital directly to digital brands, and regulatory frameworks will accommodate shorter value chains

He enlightens the faculty member that with Lifestyle apps will re-imagine the insurer-insured relationships. Application Programming Interfaces (APIs) will enable the creation of insights-driven offerings as they integrate data from multiple sources. Deeper understanding of customer behaviors will lead to more accurate risk assessments, personalized premiums and value on a sustainable basis for better customer experience and brand loyalty, plus reduced false claims.

He concluded, with a quote from a research that, more than 80% of premiums collected by insurers is lost to distribution costs

DAY - 2

TOPIC : AI & Automation for Faster Claims

Prof. Osman Bin Salam, Principal, AUCBM, conducted the Day-2 Faculty Development Program. His topic was "AI & Automation for Faster Claims"

He Start the Session with brief introduction Robotic Process Automation (RPA) and AI will occupy center stage in insurance, driven by newer data channels, better data processing capabilities and advancements in AI algorithms. For example, InsurTech company Lemonade's business model deploys AI and behavioral economics as its core elements. While AI eliminates brokers and paperwork, its behavioral economics capabilities minimize fraud - leading to reduced time, effort and costs.

He further explain that the Bots will become mainstream in both the front and back-office to automate policy servicing and claims management for faster and more personalized customer service. For example, a leading U.S. auto insurer's virtual assistant answers customer queries on policies and payments. Lemonade's claims bot Jim assesses and pays out property claims in just three seconds. Automated insurance agent SPIXII interacts with customers through a mobile app and other messenger platforms to help in the purchase of the right policies.

He enlighten the audience by explaining that AI and automation will profoundly impact and improve business outcomes in customer experience, cost optimization, operational efficiencies, market competitiveness and newer business models.

DAY-3

TOPIC : Advances Analysis & Proactiveness

Dr. Aseem Khan of Anwarul Uloom the Day-3 Faculty Development Program. His topic was "Advances Analysis & Proactiveness".

He enlighten with Premiums will become highly personalized, enabled by new sources of tech-enabled data such as Internet of Things, mobile-enabled InsurTech apps and wearable's. With the connected devices market poised to grow strongly in the next five years, Property and Casualty (P&C) insurers will be able to extract real-time and accurate data on the loss exposure of individual consumers. This will help them proactively respond with timely and highly personalized interventions.

He has given an example of Panasonic A Europe-based insurance company's partnership with Panasonic. Panasonic's sensors provide mobile alerts to both the insurer and its customers for quick and informed mitigation of issues.

Additionally, insights will be built through data set relationships to create deeper granularity in individual risk profiles and protect insurers from emerging risk exposures. For example, a U.K.-based insurance company leverages predictive analytics to model complex customer behavior, achieve enhanced pricing accuracy and significantly reduce decision time. A U.S. insurer deploys a telematics device to provide drivers real-time feedback to encourage safe-driving. This has helped customers save up to 40 percent on insurance premiums.

DAY - 4

TOPIC : Insur Tech Partnership

Prof. Mohd. Ibrahim Uddin, Vice-Principal, AUCBM, Hyderabad.

The speaker started InsurTech firms have been showing significant growth in the areas of auto, home ownership and cyber insurance. Such strong growth will stimulate traditional insurers to either acquire technology capabilities or partner with InsurTech companies. With an increasing demand for innovative products and services from millennial, such collaboration will become a critical imperative.

Overall, it will be a win-win situation — traditional insurers will benefit from faster results in establishing a tech culture and Insur Tech companies will get access to larger customer bases, funding and domain expertise. It will give rise to newer models and revenue streams for higher profitability and reduced operational costs. Customer experiences will be enhanced with value-added offerings.

He concluded with the session with a request to upgrade the knowledge of Insurance.

DAY - 5

TOPIC : Mainstreaming Blockchain

Prof. Najeeb Uddin, Principal, Limra Degree College Hyderabad

He, began his session with Blockchain and its importance. The need for huge volumes of customer data to be processed in real time by different insurance functions calls for easy and secure transfer of data across organizations and their diverse stakeholders.

He explained that Blockchain technology provides the advantage of secure data management across multiple interfaces and stakeholders without loss of integrity. From identity management and underwriting to claims processing, fraud management and reliable data availability, the technology offers reduced operational costs. Decentralized Autonomous Organizations (DAOs) and smart contracts are additional benefits that blockchain can offer in policy management.

He also told that more than 38 insurance and reinsurance companies have embarked on an initiative called the B3i to explore blockchain applications in insurance. The beta version of a blockchain-based insurance solution is expected to be deployed in 2018.

He conclude that the above trends indicate that new value worth billions of dollars can be created for the insurance industry. The key is to understand how and when to tap into this potential leveraging existing and new technologies.

TOPIC : Mobile Banking

Date: 19th August, 2022

Topic: Mobile Banking

Resource Person: Mr.Fasi Ur Rahman,
Assistant Professor, JBIET

Mr.Fasi discussed various smart card payment schemes which are becoming popular. Even though certain systems are launched successfully and the piloting result also reveals that customer is satisfied with the new payment scheme, not getting much popularity because of the above mentioned challenges. But every one is agreeing unanimously that current system of payment need to be changed. It is oblivious that the current system has a lot of loop holes in terms of security.

Objectives:

- While looking forward a new system of payment and its adoption by the society also need very good initiative to train the public. In certain countries these system are restricted by law.
- Due to the high penetration of mobile devices and its capability for storage and processing reveals innovative opportunity for payment scheme.

Outcome:

- The faculty came to know that the benefits of mobile banking for users include time efficiency, the possibility to manage funds, transfer money, and detect frauds quickly. Also with the help of digital banking users have 24/7 access to their accounts (including the possibility to check balance) and reminders about bills payments, loans, etc.

TOPIC : Blockchain Technology

Date: 21th August, 2022

Resource Person: Mr.Obaid Siddiqui, HoD, Computer Science, Anwarul Uloom College

Dr. Ubaid Siddiqui, discuss in detail about Blockchain Technology and its revolution in today's world.

Objectives:

- The main hypothesis is that the blockchain establishes a system of creating a distributed consensus in the digital online world. This allows participating entities to know for certain that a digital event happened by creating an irrefutable record in a public ledger.
- It opens the door for developing a democratic open and scalable digital economy from a centralized one. There are tremendous opportunities in this disruptive technology and revolution in this space has just begun.

Outcomes:

- The discussion enlightened the participants about the enormous interest in BlockChain based business applications and hence numerous Start-ups working on them. The adoption definitely faces strong headwind as described before.
- The large Financial institutions like Visa, Mastercard, Banks, NASDAQ, etc., are investing in exploring application of current business models on BlockChain. In fact, some of them are searching for the new business models in the world of BlockChain. Some would like to stay ahead of the curve in terms of transformed regulatory environments of BlockChain. To conclude, we envision BlockChain to go through slow adoption due to the risks associated. Most of the Startups will fail with few winners. We should be seeing significant adoption in a decade or two.

DAY-1

Speaker: Dr. Prof Ravinder Kaur (Retd),
HOD, Public Administration, Osmania University.
Topic: Critical Thinking Skills for Academicians.

The speaker highlighted the concept of Critical thinking in research. Critical thinking is about using your ability to reason. It's about being active in your learning and questioning ideas, arguments and findings. In an academic argument ideas are organised into a line of reasoning. The writer aims to persuade the reader that their point of view is valid.

He also focused on what Critical thinking involves like asking questions, defining a problem, examining evidence, analysing assumptions and biases, avoiding emotional reasoning, avoiding oversimplification, considering other interpretations, and tolerating ambiguity.

Being objective is a fundamental part of critical thinking. That means analysing the problem without allowing personal bias, emotions or assumptions to influence how you think. A strong critical thinker will only analyse a problem based on the context and facts collected after conducting thorough and impartial research.

DAY-2

Speaker: Dr. Prof. Aatma Ram (Retd),
Principal, Govt. Girls Degree College, Chintal Basti.
Topic: Leadership skills.

The speaker on day 2 called attention to Leadership skills in faculty. Leadership is a process whereby an individual is able to motivate others to internalize a collective vision and mobilize them toward attaining that vision. Effective leadership emotions, transforms and people's goals ambitions, even their identities, and replaces self-oriented behaviour with group-oriented behaviour.

He specifically explained about leadership psychology. There are two primary theories the trait theory and the behavioural theory. The behavioural theories of leadership assume that specific behavioural patterns of leaders can be acquired through learning and experience. While the trait theory concentrates on "what the leaders are", the behavioural theories concentrate on "what the leaders do".

There top 10 leadership skills include: Communication, Guidance, Motivation, Creativity, Positivity, Feedback, Inspiration, Teamwork, Responsibility and Delegating.

DAY-3

Speaker: Dr. Prof Afroz Alam,

HOD, Political Science, MANUU.

Topic: Writing and Publishing a Research Paper.

The speaker underlined the important points as to how to make an article interesting and easily understood without the reader having to read the whole article. He talked about certain points to remember while writing an article such as keeping it accurate and specific, and keep it as brief and concise as possible. Some journals (particularly in the medical fields) will ask you to structure the abstract in distinct, labelled sections, which makes it even more accessible.

He also discuss 7 steps to the successful publication of a research paper

1. Check whether your research is publication-ready
2. Choose an article type
3. Choose a journal
4. Construct your paper
5. Decide the order of authors
6. Check and double-check
7. Submit your paper

DAY-4

Speaker: Dr. Yasmin (Retd),

Associate Professor, Political Science, Osmania University.

Topic: Ethics in Research and Plagiarism.

Research ethics involves the application of fundamental ethical principles to research activities which include the design and implementation of research, respect towards society and others, the use of resources and research outputs, scientific misconduct and the regulation of research.

The speaker emphasized on the meaning of Plagiarism. It is presenting someone else's work or ideas as your own, with or without their consent, by incorporating it into your work without full acknowledgement. DAY-5

Dr. Ch. Venkateshwarlu,
Assistant Professor, Political Science, Osmania University.
Topic: Writing Abstract and Review of Literature.

Literature review is a survey of scholarly sources (such as books, journal articles, and theses) related to a specific topic or research question. It is often written as part of a thesis, dissertation, or research paper, in order to situate your work in relation to existing knowledge.

The speaker stressed on the purpose of a literature review is to gain an understanding of the existing research and debates relevant to a particular topic or area of study, and to present that knowledge in the form of a written report. Conducting a literature review helps you build your knowledge in your field.

A literature review is a comprehensive summary of previous research on a topic. The literature review surveys scholarly articles, books, and other sources relevant to a particular area of research. The review should enumerate, describe, summarize, objectively evaluate and clarify this previous research.

In collaboration with

DEPARTMENT OF COMPUTER SCIENCE AND ENGINEERING

Has organized

Five Days National Faculty Development Programme on "Practical Approach to Data Science Using R Programming"

Objective: To get the thorough understanding of Data Science and to gain practical knowledge of R-Programming.

INTRODUCTION

Data science is an interdisciplinary field that uses scientific methods, processes, algorithms and systems to extract knowledge and insights from noisy, structured and unstructured data, and apply knowledge from data across a broad range of application domains.

- R is an open-source software. R is free and adaptable because it's an open-source software. R's open interfaces allow it to integrate with other applications and systems.
- R is a programming language. As a programming language, R provides objects, operators and functions that allow users to explore, model and visualize data.
- R is used for data analysis. R in data science is used to handle, store and analyze data. It can be used for data analysis and statistical modeling.
- R is an environment for statistical analysis. R has various statistical and graphical capabilities.

I am glad to submit a brief report on a brief report on five days faculty development program Organized by the department of economics from 16th august to 20th august 2022.

PROGRAM SCHEDULE:

The head department of Economics Ms Bushra siddiq have taken the initiative of organizing the 5 days Faculty Development Program.

According to the schedule , the programme started at 1:00 pm. Mohammed Abu Bakar siddiq, Assistant Professor, Arabic Department, opened the session with a recital of the qhirath. Prof. Ahmed Baig, Director of the Anwarullom Group of Institutions, lit the customary lamp by his speech to start the programme.

On first day of Faculty development program, Dr. Wajida Begum, a journalist and a subject matter expert from the department of urdu, has highlighted the connection between students' use of social media and their academic achievement and creativity. A mediating factor in the correlations between students' use of social media and their academic performance and creativity was also discovered to be intrinsic motivation.

Her speech had such an impact on the faculty that it was requested by various faculty members that her session be extended for an additional on two days.

The second resource person, Ms Arshiya sultana who is working as a visiting professor in shadan college, has begun his talk to the audience on the topic strategic management in new economic environment in a very attention-grabbing manner.

She has discussed the economically based theories in strategic management can be divided into two groups; (1) those that are original to the field of strategic management and are based on economic logic, and (2) those that started in the field of economics but have been applied and frequently developed in novel ways in the field of strategic management.

THE LUNCH BREAK LASTED BARELY 45 MINUTES EACH DAY.

The third resource person Dr Aseem Khan has through light on the the professional ethics of teachers stating professional ethics is like a guide, which facilitates the teacher to provide quality education and inculcate good values among the learners. The professional ethics will enlighten the teachers that they have a major role in bringing desirable changes in the behaviour of the students.

The teachers were moved by Aseem Khan's talk on professional ethics. They realised that in addition to classroom instruction, children will learn through their impeccable behaviour.

Additionally, several students attended the programme. Certificate distribution took place for all participants on the final day of the programme. Assistant professor of economics Shereen Siddiqui offered a vote of thanks.

- After completing the FDP, professors are expected to exhibit professional ethics in their instruction and behaviour, which is crucial in today's workplace. Students observe and have learned from our behaviour of their teachers as well.
- The faculty has thoroughly understood the role is not just to become supreme and authoritarian in front of their students and colleagues. But then they have a wider and meaningful role to play. Teacher having the sense of professional ethics will treat their learners with love, care, affection and commitment. In addition to that, they would always ensure to make specific contribution from their angle. Therefore, this paper specially highlights the significance of professional ethics in teachers.
- The faculty came to understand deeply the use of social media as a medium to get new resources to support their lessons, activities to teach particular concepts, bulletin board ideas, information on new apps to do a follow up of certain topics as well as to network and know what is happening in schools all over the world.
