Decapods are nested in the public consciousness for their great significance as a worldwide food source. They are Crustaceans with five pairs of thoracic legs; hence they are known as 'Decapoda' (=Ten footed). This group constitutes an order within the crustacean class Malacostraca, is the largest invertebrates that occupy freshwaters. Freshwater Decapods are well studied from the South Indian region and Western Ghats region recently with few new descriptions. In the Eastern Ghats, these studies were overlooked and mostly commercially important species were documented from a few well-known lakes only. Exploration of Decapoda was very scarce and limited from the state, Andhra Pradesh. In this survey period, a total number of 655 Decapoda samples have been collected from the state of Andhra Pradesh. After proper identification total 15 species under 03 families and 07 genera are going to be reported which leads the check list up to 18. Among them, family Atyidae is completely new addition in the freshwater fauna of Andhra Pradesh. Additionally, two genera (Caridina and Leptocarpus) are going to be documented first time from this state. Moreover, total eleven species are new records to this state along with two new species.

Key words: New records, Eastern Ghats, Caridean prawns.

ABSTRACT

Family Coccinellidae comprises magnificent insects that are commonly known as ladybirds or lady beetles. This family comes under class Insecta and order Coleoptera. About 6000 species under 490 genera of Coccinellidae are known worldwide. Adults are oval, brightly coloured with wings. Their mandibles are used for chewing. Females on average are larger than males. Ladybugs can be found in many different habitats including forests, grasslands, rivers, and in cities and suburbs. Most adult ladybugs eat nectar and pollen in addition to aphids. They favor shallow flowers like dill, coriander. Deeper flowers are inaccessible to them. They lay their eggs on the leaves, stems and sometimes on the bark of plants often near prey. The eggs of most species are long, usually oval and vary from a light yellow to a deep orange colour. Larvae are usually brightly coloured. Larvae go through four instars and then pupate on a leaf or branch by attaching the body to leaf surface. Their life cycle is completed in one month, depending upon location and temperature. Adults are seen during winter in sheltered locations such as tree holes and other natural hiding places (Majerus and Kearns, 1989). They have highly diverse patterns of wing (elytral) colour and one of the most attractive model organisms for studying these characteristics. They are predaceous on numerous phytophagous insects and provide an essential ecosystem service for humans. They help farmers grow healthy crops by serving as a natural form of pest control increasing yields. Ladybugs are heroes to plants.

Key words: Ladybird beetle, Coccinellidae, beneficial in agriculture.

About This Course

The COVID-19 pandemic situation and beyond have brought significant disruptions across the country and restructured the way higher education is delivered. Establishment of the technological infrastructure and services in higher education system through information and communication technology between management, learners, and professors in higher education institutions need to be considered. The teaching community are evolving innovative approaches to equip themselves with the skills necessary for creating a holistic teaching learning environment where the symbiotic relationship between the teacher and the student blossoms which is beyond cognition and thought. It is still under debate whether to reopen the educational institutions or to continue the existing online platform.

The incorporation of information communication technology in education has already been on a high growth. This transition is forced to build emergency remote learning systems immediately. It is imperative to recover from the pandemic by equipping with the latest change in trends to become better prepared for future crises. The faculty are consistently in need of improving their knowledge in the related areas of science and technology. It is essential to understand the strategic significance and values of the inter-disciplinary and multidisciplinary research to accomplish optimum scientific outcomes. The teachers in Higher Education increasingly are in the need for the completion of refresher course in Zoology to enhance their subject knowledge for their professional journey. In response to significant demand for Faculty development program, this online Refresher course in Zoology is being organized which will bolster teacher's capabilities to enhance the teaching learning methodologies. This capacity building program will also support and enhance the blended models of education. This course aims to bring together the subject expert(s) from multidisciplinary fields ranging from basic sciences to applied sciences including clinical research in order to open-mindedly share recent advancements in dynamic and ever-expanding fields of science, with a special emphasize on the cutting-edge approaches in biochemistry, cell biology, genetics, genomics, metabolic biology, physiology, immunology etc.

On the occasion of Centenary Celebrations of Dept. of Botany, OU, In Association with Botany Alumni
Organized by
Department of Botany, Osmania University, Hyderabad - 500007, Telangana, INDIA.

Goals of the Conference

It is a multi-disciplinary conference inviting participants from Researchers, Professionals, Teaching faculty, Industry members, Research Scholars and students. The conference will provide an opportunity to interact with eminent researchers, provides a platform to exchange the ideas, also helps in establishing network and collaborations in the field of plant sciences.

Focal Theme of the Conference

Basic and Applied Research of all the branches of Plant Sciences:

1. Phycology, Mycology and Plant Pathology, Microbiology.
2. Bryology, Peridology, Gymnosperms and Palaeobotany.
3. Cell Biology, Evolution, Genetics and Plant Breeding.
4. Physiology, Biochemistry, Developmental and Reproductive Biology.
5. Plant Biotechnology, Molecular Biology, Metabolic Engineering, Bioinformatics.
6. Ecology, Biodiversity, Phytogeography and Conservation Biology.
7. Plant Taxonomy and Systematics, Horticulture, Seed Technology, Medicinal Botany.
8. Ethnobotany, Ethnopharmacology, Phytochemistry, Traditional Knowledge Systems.
